ELAINE PEREZ, DVM

Emergency and Critical Care

Dr. Perez completed her veterinary medical training at Purdue University College of Veterinary Medicine, where she developed a great interest in emergency and critical care medicine. She completed an internship course in this specialty, led by two highly respected experts in the field.

After completing this course, Dr. Perez completed an internship at Michigan State University School of Veterinary Medicine and she has worked in emergency and critical care medicine ever since. She is fluent in Spanish and her furry family member is a Yorkie named Junior.
